Concrete, usually Portland cement concrete, is a composite material composed of fine and coarse aggregate bonded together with a fluid cement (cement paste) that hardens over time—most frequently a lime-based cement binder, such as Portland cement, but sometimes with other hydraulic cements, such as a calcium aluminate cement. It is distinguished from other, non-cementitious types of concrete ...

Key messages Early* striking of formwork and improved backpropping procedures increase construction efficiency by:
• Allowing early access to the supporting floors by following trades.
• Enabling greater re-use of formwork.
• Reducing the quantity of formwork and falsework required.
*Early in this context is defined as concrete less than three days old.
