In mathematics, a unit vector in a normed vector space is a vector (often a spatial vector) of length 1. A unit vector is often denoted by a lowercase letter with a circumflex, or "hat":  $\hat{\phantom{x}}$  (pronounced "i-hat"). The term direction vector is used to describe a unit vector being used to represent spatial direction, and such quantities are commonly denoted as  $\mathbf{d}$ .

In linear algebra, an eigenvector or characteristic vector of a linear transformation is a non-zero vector that changes by only a scalar factor when that linear transformation is applied to it. More formally, if  $T$  is a linear transformation from a vector space  $V$  over a field  $F$  into itself and  $v$  is a vector in  $V$  that is not the zero vector, then  $v$  is an eigenvector of  $T$  if  $T(v)$  is a scalar ...
